News Alert

1. The library would like to request all lecturers to submit/ lend proceedings of any conference attended to the library. This effort will not only permits other readers to gain access to the matters discussed during the conference but also enriches the proceedings collection in the library. Please contact your liaison librarian for the submission.

2. Good news to students: increase of borrowing privilege. Now postgraduates are allowed to borrow 20 books (previously 15) and undergraduates 15 books (previously 10). Borrowing period, however, remains as before.

Online Database of the Month

LexisNexis Total Research System
This database specializes in law materials. Full-text of articles, cases, acts from prominent journals, reports and legislations are accessible using a variety of flexible search options. The database is mainly used by IIUM students for access to Malayan Law Journal's articles and cases.

Access to the database is direct through the library homepage. For remote/external access to the database, configuration of the users’ PC/laptop needs to be done. How to do this? Refer to the library homepage’s How To. Under the Online Databases section, click “Steps in Accessing Online Databases remotely”.
