Information on Lexis® Malaysia

- Lexis® Malaysia provides online access to cases and articles; codes and statutes; court documents; business news; legal news; regional news; expert commentaries on the law; and so much more.

- For Malaysian legal research, the new improved database comes with a customized front page to enable easy and direct access to Malaysian cases, articles and commentaries.

- As search for international cases and articles is a little bit “hidden”, this guide is created to ease search for those resources. The process of finding international cases and articles is similar.

In 1983, when the Library flapped open its door to users, it was a modest floor area with a very small seating capacity. Thriving on simplicity, the working area for the few staff was located in the basement level of the three level mini library.

In 1986, it moved to its own four (4) storey building where it began to steadily develop its collection and expand its services and facilities. February 1997 witnessed the final
